

CURTAINS

- Curtain making up charges are based on a price per width of curtain fabric. As a general rule you require 2.5 to 3 x the width of your pole/track, divide this by the width of your fabric to give the total number of widths required.

As a rough guide a 2m pole will require 2 widths per curtain, 4 widths per pair.

A 1.5m pole = three widths of curtain in total.

- Prices are per width depending upon the type of heading chosen and if the curtains are to be lined/interlined.
- These prices include initial measuring, making up, and delivery/ hanging. (hanging on pre-fitted tracks or poles). Most curtains are lined so we will start there, unlined is available, please ask for details.

Hand headed curtains, ie; Pinch pleat/double pleat/cone/goblet/cartridge etc

Lined per width £45.00

Lined and interlined £54.00

Pencil pleat curtains – per width of fabric £35.00 lined/£45.00 lined and interlined.

- In addition; lining charged at £3.80m. Interlining £6.50. Blackout and thermal linings £6.70m. Plus a small charge for notions (threads, buckrum, curtain hooks etc), usually around £10.00 per pair of curtains.
- Happy to use your fabrics/lining/interlinings and notions but have to say that we accept no responsibility for insufficient quantity/faulty/ sub-standard cloth.

ROMAN BLINDS

- The same lining and interlining costs as above. There are several blind options on offer. Roman blinds can have either machine stitched rod pockets, or hand stitched rod pockets, this usually depends upon the type of fabric chosen, and its location. ie, you would probably select a more robust fabric for the kitchen than the lounge therefore the fabrics would probably lend themselves better to being machine stitched for the kitchen and hand sewn for the lounge.
- The maximum width of a roman blind is 4m. There is in theory no maximum drop, but you will need Popeye muscles to raise any very large blind!
- There are several blind pulling mechanisms available, these prices are based on a metal track with ratchet pulley system. Plain corded, sidewinder and electrically operated systems are also available.
- For a full price quotation for your particular size of blind, please call, the following is a price guide to cover a range of popular sizes.
